Items of Significance

Invasion Day Rally

On 26 January, a delegation of Guild Reps attended the Invasion Day rally held in Forrest Chase. This rally was organised by Marianne Headland MacKay and other Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander members of the community, and featured a variety of speakers, singers and dancers. The organisers of the rally stood in support of changing/abolishing the date of Australia Day, recognising Indigenous sovereignty over the land, and ending Aboriginal deaths in custody.

I organised a sign-painting session in the courtyard outside the Guild, as well as a bus to take to the rally. My goal was for 20 attendees to the signpainting, but we only had 16. I will note that many people I asked declined due to COVID concerns, and which also accounted for a reduced turnout to the rally itself.

I'd like to thank Marianne Headland MacKay and the other organisers of the rally for the amazing event. As allies of the First Nations community, it is the Guild's job to elevate their voices, not just on Australia Day, but every day. We are still working hard to redesign the First Nations Officer position to be fit-for-purpose, and to create a culturally safe Guild, to be better allies to Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander students at Curtin.

COVID-19 Planning and Management

As I mentioned verbally at my last Representation Board report, I have been added to the University's COVID-19 CIMT (Critical Incidence Management Team), chaired by Fiona Notley (COO). Dylan (Guild Secretary) sent out an email to everyone regarding what is being discussed at the CIMT, but briefly we are:

- Implementing a testing clinic on campus
- Drafting and approving a policy on mandatory vaccines
- Implementing processes for creating health management plans (e.g. for people who are immunocompromised or have exemptions to masks or the vaccine)
- Developing more FAQs (e.g. for international students, students residing on campus), as well as guides regarding travel and close contacts

- Determining the academic support that will be made available to students, as well as how content will be delivered
- Defining “levels” of COVID-19 restrictions for Curtin – Level 1 is business as usual, Level 5 is campus being closed and everyone working from home
- Investigating international students isolating in campus accommodation
- How to deal with workforce disruption
- Investigating new health and safety measures (e.g. ventilation, CO2 monitoring, procuring RATs)
- An assortment of other measures

David (Managing Director), the Exec and I are also discussing ways of being proactively COVID-safe at the Guild.

International Students Affected by Border Opening Delay

With the surprise announcement that the state government was going back on their announcement that borders were opening on 5th February, many international students were left in the dark. The government’s plan did not account for the issues international students, stuck both interstate and overseas, would face in light of the announcement. Students arriving from interstate will have to isolate and thus won’t be able to work, and quarantining is especially expensive for those with no family to stay with. At the same time, the situation still needs to be resolved for the many students outside the country, who have made plans, booked flights, and found accommodation, only for their entry into WA delayed with no confirmed date for the opening of the border.

With help from the ever-amazing Maryanne, Sofia and I composed a letter to the Premier about these concerns, and calling on the government to open the WA border to international students enrolled in WA universities in 2022.

Federal Election

The federal election will be held this year, and I’m planning on running a campaign to inform students about how to vote, when to vote, why to vote, and how the different candidates measure against key points. These key points are being put forward at this Representation Board. It’s important to get as much done as possible as early as possible, so when the date of the election is announced we’re all ready to go.

Unit Feedback Process

It is the opinion of myself along with staff and students I’ve spoken with that eVALUate is a poor tool for providing feedback on your unit, for a myriad of reasons. Maddie and I are working with Jon Yorke (Academic Registrar) to trial a quick survey to students in week 4 or so, to gauge how engaging students are finding the unit and anything students would like to see changed. Together, we are drafting a proposal to Academic Board, and a pilot might actually be implemented this semester!

Assorted Guild Work

- As the Guild Rep in charge of Commercial Operations, I've been investigating making our outlets more accessible. First step is through menus – I'm looking at putting menus online and implementing Braille menus instore.
- Curtin's new Deputy Vice Chancellor - Academic has finally been announced – Paul Brunton. He has a background in dentistry and is currently Pro Vice Chancellor of Health Sciences at the University of Otago (he and Harlene Hayne (Vice Chancellor) used to work together, and quite well). I've introduced myself to him through email, and he should be officially starting mid-year.

TL;DR!

- A delegation of Guild Reps attended the Invasion Day rally. Lower turnout than expected, but this can be partially attributed to COVID-19 concerns.
- I am on a team with many higher-ups in the University, working towards transitioning to living with COVID-19.
- Sofia and I wrote to the Premier, calling on the government to open the WA border to international students enrolled in WA universities in 2022.
- Planning for the federal election is underway.
- This semester, the Guild is working with the University to implement a quick feedback survey for week 4, with the goal of giving timely, anonymous feedback to Unit Coordinators

Executive Summary

Over this month I have been having fortnightly catch ups with equity representatives one-on-one where possible, and upon consideration have made the decision to break up a collaborative fortnightly catch ups with faculty representatives in favour of also having them as one-on-one catch ups.

O-Day planning is looking great and I cannot wait to see the final product (go February!)

My meetings with the university have began to grow in number as staff come back from their holiday breaks, with the first instance of 2022's Courses Committee occurring on the first of February.

Theodora has begun one-on-one weekly meetings with exec to set goals and ensure we are feeling comfortable in our roles, I find this system extremely beneficial and look forward to them.

FINAL NOTES

This report was submitted on the 3rd of February, and the following meetings are scheduled to occur between submission and Reps Board meeting. If you have any questions about the following please ask me, otherwise I will include them in my report next month.

- Student Discipline Panels

- Graduation Ceremony,
- Sci-Eng Rep x Pro-Vice Chancellor Meet-up
- Learning and Teaching Council Executive

This last month has been a lot more work, especially with starting to plan things for the year ahead. I've been dealing with a lot of emails, mostly from Guild and University, but I was able to help out 1 whole student with a complaint.

I am also hopeful to be able to arrange more meetings with university executive throughout the next month to establish a good working relationship going into this year. As I've already met a number of the staff before, this is also a good way for me to understand what their expectations are of me in this role.

Science and Engineering Key Performance Indicators

- Be proactive in working with Guild reps, students and staff on projects, in particular the cultural changes project from last year.
- Maintain a 3-day response time to student emails (excl. weekends, public holidays, and leave).
- Work towards a united faculty where students identify as 'Science and Engineering' students, rather than as one or the other.
 - Improve communication between Science clubs and Engineering clubs (ideally have collaborative events between clubs).
- Improve or maintain student engagement via the Faculty of Science and Engineering Facebook group.
- Ensure students are adequately and appropriately represented in relevant committees within the Faculty.
- Communicate regularly with Faculty Executive (PVC, Head of Schools, etc.).
- Improve student - club relations/engagement (encourage students to attend club events, promote club events through official channels).
- Work on improving the atmosphere at University by encouraging students to spend more time on campus.
 - Or in the case of a lockdown, find ways to engage better with students online.
- Work to maintain a high quality of education for students both in-person and online.
 - Ensure that unit complaints are handled quickly and to a student's satisfaction.
 - Raise concerns with executive staff around existing procedures that don't work for students.

Humanities Faculty Representative KPIs 2022

- Increase the level of engagement between the Faculty of Humanities Rep and Humanities-aligned clubs.
- Attend three events ran by Humanities-aligned clubs per semester.
- Reply to emails within three days (not including public holidays and leave)
- To the best of my ability, ensure the quality of education does not decline in the Faculty of Humanities.
- Run a campaign to increase awareness about the importance of jobs in Humanities in regards to sustainability and environmentalism.
 - o Host an event which demonstrates to students a link between sustainability and jobs.

Representation Board – February 2022

Acknowledgement of Country

As a wadjela woman, I would like to acknowledge the traditional custodians of the land both past, present and emerging. I pay my respects to the Whadjuk Noongar people who continue to endure the effects of colonisation. I recognise that we live on stolen land and that sovereignty was never ceded. This always was and always will be Aboriginal land.

Guild and University meetings, progress and planning

17/01	Response to Marcus (Ordinary Representation Board member)	Marcus asked myself and Rey to second a circular motion proposal to rally against borders opening on February 5 th . Discussion in the email thread has observed that safety is paramount before proceeding as current outbreaks have been concurrent. I suggested so long as thorough research has been addressed regarding outdoor safety during the rally that I would comfortably second the motion.
	Revised Key Performance Indicators for term	Evaluated achievable outcomes/reasonable goals for my term. Drafted a week ahead of deadline before submitting/adjusting them with Madison.
20/01	Finalised Key Performance Indicators	Set achievable outcomes for the term and forwarded them to Madison.
	Planning for Orientation Day Stall and Orientation Week	Identified what I would bring to the stall for decoration and materials. Finalised what to include on flyers and relevant materials.
	Student Meeting on Campus	Discussed fieldwork concerns and how to source student sticker while on prac.
	Opened channel of contact for clubs and committees within the faculty	Emailed clubs and committees from lists February sent through via email.
	Representation Board	Fulfilled agenda discussion, seconded Marcus' circular motion for the rally (do not open borders).
	Meeting with Madison (Vice President of Education)	Faculty Rep catch up meeting to discuss O-Week material and preparation as well as general goals moving forward.

	Online event planning: Live Q & A	Live Q & A events were discussed for online engagement with Ben, February and Madison via email. Students could inquire about issues or progress the Guild is making. Some representatives would be able to team up. E.g. Accessible lab solutions and opening discussion thereof.
24/01	Accessibility Follow-Up	Contacted Rey in regard to meeting preparations (Yet to be arranged).
	Fortnightly Meeting with Adrian	Once more, the ongoing fortnightly meeting will be cancelled as this week's meeting 26 th of January falls on a public holiday. Thus, Adrian is out of office. The next meeting and initial introductions will resume 9 th of February as availability beforehand was not feasible for both parties. Apologies were made.
	O-Day Stalls/Preparations	Finalised stall items were documented and sent to Madison.
25/01	Students as Partners Meeting: Online	Students as Partners meeting moved online. Discussion around preferable course delivery and student engagement was had. This was mostly a formal introductions meeting. Exciting projects were suggested moving forward.
26/01	Invasion Day Rally	Supported Invasion Day Rally alongside Guild team in solidarity of Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander Peoples. Always was, always will be.
	Welcome to Curtin Video	Guild faculty representatives filmed a welcome to Curtin video for newly enrolled students.
02/02	Feedback to Marcus	Reviewed Marcus' motion following prior Representation Board meeting regarding Covid-safe demands for Curtin. I agreed that free masks be made available on campus as a priority.
	Student Fieldwork concerns	Students are still needing placements as they have not yet been allocated in Social Work specifically. I have liaised with multiple students at a recent induction; it seems that students are having placements cancelled due to Covid measures (E.g. Elderly support service placements). I have advised that students approach me if further issues persist. However, some students' placements will be beginning later than most students, which is causing some stress.

03/02	Health Sciences Fundraiser Preparations with February	Decided to support Breast Cancer awareness cause at the Wellbeing Fair on campus in April. Discussion around fundraising/donations and where to donate are in progress.
	Filming for Health Science Representative campus tour	Filmed campus tour for health science students with media team.
	Reviewed KPI's from feedback	Adjustments were required to resolve KPI's after some feedback that they may not be as specific as needed. I have reviewed, submitted and attached them below.

TLDR: Steady progress has been made in organising events for the faculty. I have worked towards organising myself for O-Day. I have followed-up with Rey regarding the inaccessible labs. A meeting has been set to move forward with this issue. Attended the Invasion Day rally in solidarity with Guild team. Have been discussing Covid-safe demands regarding Marcus' circular motion. Students have reflected they are unhappy with fieldwork arrangements/processes. Staff are struggling to find placements for Social Work students. I have begun organising a fundraising stall for Breast Cancer this year. On the Facebook page, I am engaging with students; mostly about mentoring opportunities.

Key Performance Indicators
1. Introduce myself both in-person at faculty events (O-Day & Wellbeing Fair) and online with posts in the Health Science Faculty group page to build connection with students.
2. Support Breast Cancer awareness cause through fundraising stall at the Wellbeing Fair on campus.
3. Interact with students on Facebook through posts, polls and Guild content on the Health Science group page.
4. Resource, network and bond with Guild staff to achieve positive changes for students.
5. Host one group meeting for Health Science students to voice their concerns (online or in-person).
6. Advocate for educational materials regarding queer identities and health for Health Science faculty courses (following up Theodora's initiative).
7. Respond proactively to collective/student concerns throughout my term via email and in-person or online meetings.

Emergency Relief

Student Assist provided emergency relief to 2 students during the month of January in the form of Student Assist's vouchers and Foodbank.

RESOLVED PSC#01/22

5. Matters Arising from the Minutes:

Action List

a. Letter writing campaign

Hameed requested that the CAPA president write a letter of support in relation to offering grad programs to international nursing students who studied onshore in Australia. This letter will be attached to other letters the PSC committee will send to the state education minister pending the PSC executives scheduled meeting with him at a later date.

b. PSC Committee Mentorship program

The Postgraduate and PhD students' mentorship program was discussed extensively. Jessica suggested that this Committee create peer-support groups and pastoral care while acting as mentors to the incoming Postgraduate students.

Andrew said there was a mentorship program between 2012-2019 but was discontinued because there was a lack of engagement from the students, students stopped contacting their mentors after a few weeks of engagement, the inability to streamline the right program for mentorship, many students wanted some academic support, but the mentors are trained to offer support but not academic support. He suggested that the PSC partner with the librarian for academic help and other students' services.

Joan noted that targeted workshops with topics of interest should be incorporated to identify and fill the gap of what should be of immense benefit to the students. This could be published in a journal or communicated through online digital media and any other channel the Committee considers.

Jesse hinted about using Facebook and the postgraduate portal on the university website, but Miriam answered that some international students do not use Facebook due to limited resources to live online. However, students can request information about what they are studying via the university website.

Hameed suggested that the Committee will use individual experiences and questionnaires to drive the survey, identify the missing gaps, and how to fill them to ascertain what the students want out of the mentorship program. This will be achieved by having a brainstorming session with the heads of school.

6. Significant Items

- a. Presentation by Errol, CAPA President: He discussed the duties and responsibilities of CAPA as an organization. He stated that CAPA uses advocacy, lobbying and statistical numbers to engage politicians and policy makers. Some of their agenda for 2022 as it pertains to our Committee are:
 - i. Job ready campaign for international graduates.
 - ii. Curtailing exploitation of international students.
 - iii. Need for quality in our teaching and research.

- b. PSC Executive verbal report- 2022 PSC projects / events and Achieving KPIs
 - i. President:

Tasked members of the Committee on their individual projects for the year 2022 and how to achieve the KPIs outlined for these projects. Hameed is to work with the Guild executive in the school car parking campaign.

ACTION: Hameed to follow-up with this Committee to ensure members work on their assigned projects for the year by matching action with KPIs. Also, to enforce the deadline set for these to happen.

ii. Vice President – Education:

To harness the power of social media to connect communities, optimize academic queries and direct them to the right channel. Provide easier interactive forums in social media for postgraduate students.

ACTION: Hameed and Jesse are happy to create a postgraduate social media page (Facebook, Instagram) where students can ask questions and get a speedy response to their queries

iii. Vice-President—Research:

To organise monthly PSC events using peer-support groups, with the support of the committee members. Work-out a brainstorming session on how best to support postgraduate students.

ACTION: Organise morning tea/coffee for new postgraduate students for interactions to identify the most pressing areas where support are needed.

iv. Secretary:

Onboarding paperwork for all committee members, harmonize meeting calendars for the year 2022. Ensure all committee members get information promptly through email as regards all PSC events and functions.

ACTION: Collaborate with Hameed to coordinate the PSC activities for year 2022.

v. Humanities representative

To continue working on the changes in the Master of Teaching Students. There is a growing concern that studying humanities is now more expensive than other courses in the university due to the recent changes made by the school authority. Disseminate the information about the changes to the students and continue to seek for ways to cushion the psychological impact this will pose on students' mental health.

ACTION: To work with different groups and clubs with the faculty to proffer the best solution.

vi. PSC Councillors

Gail advocated on how to help ameliorate the hardship that the overseas returning students will face on arrival in Australia.

Doris appealed to the student assist and the head of student services to help reduce the 6-week waiting time for students to access counselling services.

Hameed said the academic board have agreed to recruit more counsellors, as staff are beginning to get burnt-out. However, the average waiting time now is 3-weeks. He asked the student engagement manager and student assist officers if the school can provide academic and financial support to these returning students, other than the $5,000 scholarship.

ACTION: Gail to work with different student representatives to address this.

Mitra complained about the school un-updated website, siting that there are some outdated discounts and the ones currently on do not reflect when you want to make payments.

ACTION: Mitra to follow-up with IT team to look at it.

Alphy asked if the school will pay for hotel quarantine for students returning from overseas to Australia.

Manager student engagement advised that the Committee should inform the returning student of the COVID-19 scholarship fund which could be up to $4,000 per student. This is to help cushion their financial burden.

Carlos to be more involved with the PSC outreaches, especially in the university lodge and the new hostel building. He is to fully participate in the mentorship and sundowner programs.

Hana to involve student clubs in the faculty regarding PSC activities. Be part of the digital engagement. Opportunities for students after graduation and industry networking. To create a program on how mothers with young children can navigate their way towards academic success.

Hameed answered that the careers team organises program for graduating students on how to transition to the labour market. Also, the women department helps with free baby products. Student assist officer explained that mothers with young children with genuine financial hardship can access a certain one-off grant for child-care needs.

ACTION: Collaborate with the student's club manager in the guild for industry networking.

Motion: That the Postgraduate students' Committee notes the verbal reports given by the members present.

Moved: Doris (Secretary)

Seconded: Jesse Hogan (VP-Education)

RESOLVED PSC#02/22

8. General Business

- Doris appealed with the president to allow the committee members some time to get their KPIs organised. This will ensure that they are not over-burdened bearing in mind that almost all of us have jobs outside the PSC and some have families and young children.

- Jessica asked the members to articulate their KPIs to reflect the 5 components of an objective which is “SMART”. Jessica will also outline the challenges faced by Ph.D. science and engineering students with their thesis.

PROJECTS

(what I've been up to)

We All Need To Pee Campaign

I've picked up the 'We All Need To Pee' campaign, which was in operation for the past year and a half, run by the previous QO, Dax Jagoe. The campaign in question is a sticker campaign, in which trans-positive stickers were placed in bathrooms around campus, bringing awareness to how bathrooms can be an uncomfortable place for gender non-conforming people to use.

In October last year, where a record number of the stickers were reported as defaced, Properties informed the Guild without any consultation that they were going to remove all of the stickers because it was costing them money to repair damaged doors etc.

I spent hours compiling a document so I could both get a good handle on this campaign as the new manager of it, and so I could have some concrete and simple to present for all relevant parties.

Section 1 describes the history and past implementation of the campaign, including an analysis of where defaced stickers have been reported, up until the stickers were removed. Section 2 goes through all of the concerns that Properties brought to us regarding the campaign, which I answer one by one. Section 3 discuss how the QD can adjust the campaign in line with Properties' concerns so we can keep advancing with it.

I talked with several people while writing this document, namely Dax Jagoe, David Luketina, Sheldon Smith (Ally Network), Rey (AO) and Bridge Truell (QO, 2019)

The next step is to send this document to Properties and get a response from them.

No matter what it is, we will be informing the queer community at large, as they haven't been officially informed yet, due to the QD having been wrapped up in communications with Properties.

EVENTS

O-Day Planning

I've placed orders with Student Engagement for various giveaways, some done in the past, and some new for this year. What I've planned for giveaways this year are as follows;

- Pronoun badges, made at the stall
 - 37mm diameter
 - Pride flag-themed circular background, on which to write pronouns
- Pride flag-themed koi fish stickers
- Jawshua stickers
 - (QD shark plushie, lives in Equity Space)
- QD flyers
 - 'QD Guide to Curtin'
 - I wrote this with contributions from the community with what helped them at Curtin
 - Edited by Elisha Gray (they/them), member of the QD community
- Guild lollipops (if there is enough)

I also asked on the Queer Department Discord if anyone was interested in volunteering and helping out at the stall on O-Day, and have got some responses, which is encouraging, so I'll be co-ordinating with them and rostering them for the day.

Other events

I've confirmed dates for two QD events for this upcoming semester;

Thursday 31st March: Transgender Day of Visibility sundowner (The Tav)

Thursday 13th May: QD Powerpoint party (The Tav)

Further details and promotion will happen later this semester.

I've also reached out to the Curtin Writer's Club and Curtin Illustration Club to see if we could do a collaboration and work on a zine for IDAHOBIT, with submissions from the queer community. IDAHOBIT is 17th May.

OTHER

Student Concern

I helped a student with an issue of deadnaming in an email from Uniready, despite having updated their preferred name with Curtin Connect.

I called the communicating officer and talked the issue out with them, learning what I could and what information they had access to etc, and relayed what they said back to the student.

Communication with other QOs

I've set up a meet-up on Sunday 6th to see some of the other queer officers in WA who are available to meet in person to talk about each other's universities and discuss if there's anything we'd like to collaborate on this year.

Equity Space

I've begun to sort through all the items that were in the Queer Department cupboards and write an inventory of what is in the cupboards when I'm done.

OVERALL COMMENTS

It's been a busy month, to say the least. I really dived in head-first to the 'We All Need To Pee' campaign, as I felt it would be really good to confirm the status of it before the semester begins again. I not only have more free time before it begins, but students aren't on campus, and if I can get stickers back up in some of the bathrooms, it would be really encouraging.

It's been really nice to engage on the Discord server and see where my moderation has helped make conversations or things in general run more smoothly. There have also been some new people joining over the past few weeks as O-Day and the start of the semester approaches, and they've integrated well, and it's lovely to see the community grow.

However, over the last month, I've done quite a few more than my remunerated hours, mainly on the 'We All Need To Pee' campaign. I wanted to do it, but it's made looking forward more setting up the collective to help support me. We'll be able to do a lot of cool things for the queer community at Curtin, without me taking up tons of my free time to do them.

TL;DR

I've been quite busy over the last month, working on the 'We All Need To Pee' campaign, planning for various events for the semester and O-Day, and different odd tasks to help out the community overall.

Title: University responsibility for staff and student safety

Motion: Guild to demand university enact a range of COVID safety measures beyond minimum state and federal government requirements

Moved: Marcus Fernihough (ordinary representative)

Seconded: Rey Nairn (accessibility officer)

Background:

The university is obliged to provide a safe environment for students and staff. By all indications, the spread of COVID-19 in WA is an inevitability that the university must be prepared for.

Enforcing COVID compliance in workplaces is proving extremely difficult. Compounding this, state and federal governments are desperately revising definitions of close contacts, making it easier for employers to compel staff to work when possibly sick. To date, Curtin University has not made significant changes to ventilation or on-campus facilities that will curtail the spread of the virus.

Current measures according to Curtin's website do not accept sufficient responsibility for establishing and enforcing COVID measures. Aside from mask wearing, no measures have been taken to control airborne spread, the major vector for COVID-19. At the time of this meeting, the university will have less than 2 weeks to make classrooms safe to attend.

Work Safe Australia, US Department of Labor and UK Health and Safety Executive provide a list of workplace measures that should be taken to prevent spread in working environments. It should be noted that a university learning environment is even more conducive to spread, given the density of students in lectures, labs, and tutorials.

A range of recommendations apply to the following key areas of control:

1. Physical distancing – minimum 1.5m
2. Mask wearing – surgical grade or higher
3. Personal hygiene – hand sanitiser and thorough washing with soap
4. Cleaning and disinfection – regular cleaning and disinfection of surfaces in shared areas
5. Vaccine mandate – full vaccination of all eligible staff (and students)
6. Ventilation – air monitoring, ventilation and filtration

As evinced in the United States, teaching environments are not safe unless significant measures are taken. If the lives and wellbeing of university staff isn't motivating enough, the disruption to the "service" of education resulting from mass sick leave should be a major concern for students.

The WA state government's safe return to school plan is a valuable point of reference for the standards staff and students should expect from the university. In particular, the rollout of CO2 monitors and air filters in classrooms is a key tool for mitigating risks to students.

University students are not immune to COVID, its dire side-effects, or potential death. The Omicron strain is proving increasingly dangerous to young people, not to mention the immunocompromised or those with comorbidities making them extra vulnerable. To date, the university has only implemented whatever measures state or federal governments have required. Observing the eastern states, we can see that this level of intervention will not be sufficient to protect students. As such, it is the Guild's responsibility to represent student's interests in opposition to those demonstrated by the university to date.

Exemptions

Some staff and students will be exempt from vaccination and mask wearing. However, in the interest of campus safety, the university must be able to enforce necessary mandates. Therefore, exemptions can only be granted on medical grounds alone. These medical grounds must be supported by relevant medical professional(s). At minimum, this applies to vaccines and mask wearing. To ensure students requiring exemptions are treated fairly, the university must provide an official process for requesting exemptions and providing the relevant letter or documentation. 'Exempt' status can then be distributed to the necessary staff on class attendance lists etc. By requiring formal support of a medical professional, students will not need to explain or justify their exemption requirement to the university.

Most conditions requiring these exemptions are also comorbidities with COVID-19. Therefore, this requirement is necessary to protect both exempt and non-exempt staff and students by minimising the number of people on campus who are not following basic health measures.

Actions:

Make the following demands of university management, to be implemented before any in-person learning or campus activity commences (if not already done):

1. Information campaign
 - a. Guild to create and distribute COVID safety material through all available avenues, including social media, emails, and on-campus signage.
 - b. University to create and distribute COVID safety material through all available avenues, including social media, emails, and on-campus signage.
 - c. Mask wearing (measurement, fit, handling and wearing) to form central component of safety material.
 - d. CAP to be updated to provide a comprehensive list of measures implemented by the university and how they may apply to students with disabilities or medical conditions.
2. Physical distancing
 - a. Assess all indoor areas of the university to calculate square meterage and determine capacity limits ensuring all staff and students can maintain a minimum 1.5m physical distance
 - b. Reduce class densities (where necessary) as required to allow for 1.5m physical distancing
 - c. Where necessary, hire additional staff to facilitate additional classes due to lowered density
3. Mask wearing
 - a. Mandate masks on campus for all staff and students
 - b. Provide (minimum) surgical masks to all staff and students, free of charge
4. Personal Hygiene
 - a. Ensure hand sanitiser is available at entrances to all indoor spaces, bathrooms & changerooms
 - b. Replace all drinking fountains with COVID-safe refill stations for water bottles
 - c. Fit all bathrooms with instructions for COVID-safe hand washing techniques
5. Cleaning and disinfection
 - a. Expand cleaning staff to facilitate more frequent cleaning of tutorial and lecture rooms
6. Vaccine mandate
 - a. Mandatory vaccination of all staff and students attending campus
 - b. Exceptions only granted on genuine medical grounds with supporting evidence
7. Ventilation
 - a. All indoor areas to be fitted with COVID-safe ventilation, reducing air circulation in and between rooms
 - b. All indoor areas to be fitted with HEPA filters.
 - c. Air quality monitoring to be performed on all indoor spaces before classes commence – guiding rollout of filters or closure of rooms
8. Information
 - a. Relevant information on all positive cases to be shared publicly, with the Curtin NTEU office & the Guild
 - b. The university to take responsibility for ensuring all exposed staff and students are notified personally, with confirmation required
9. Oversight – granted to Curtin NTEU office and Guild
 - a. Oversight of implementation of above measures
 - b. Oversight of university response to cases on-campus
10. Support

- a. Curtin staff to be guaranteed special COVID leave if forced to quarantine or unable to work if exposed as a close or casual contact and/or while waiting for COVID test results. This ensures staff will not be compelled by financial circumstances to attend university if potentially sick.
- b. Students whose studies are impeded by COVID-19 exposure to be offered the option to withdraw from enrolled units, whether or not census date is passed. This ensures students will not be compelled by fear of failing grades to attend university if potentially sick.

Title: Solidarity with NSW Nurses and Midwives

Motion: The Guild to endorse proposed industrial action taken by NSW Nurses and Midwives Association

Moved: Marcus Fernihough (ordinary representative)

Seconded:

Background:

The NSW Nurses and Midwives Association (NSWNMA) recently announced their intention to hold a state-wide vote to begin strike-action on 15th Feb 2022. As outlined in their 2nd Feb 2022 Facebook announcement, the conditions faced by members of the association are extreme.

Brett Holmes (General Secretary NSWNMA) described the conditions faced by members, including:

- Understaffing forcing overtime to cover gaps
- High rate of burnout
- Pre-COVID healthcare crisis exacerbated by the pandemic
- Indifference of the state government

NSWNMA's demands will include:

- Dynamic shift-by-shift ratios (staff-to-patient)
- Fair pay
- COVID allowance

Shaye Candish (Assistant General Secretary NSWNMA) advised that the decision to call a strike-vote is supported by a preliminary survey showing huge support for industrial action among members. Between now and 15th Feb 2022, NSWNMA branches will hold special sessions to vote on this action.

It should be noted that life-preserving care can and will be maintained during nurses' strike action.

Historical precedent for this can be found in the incredible 1986 Victorian nurses strike.

Actions:

The Guild will use its resources (social media, emails, website etc.) to:

1. Make a statement of solidarity with NSW nurses, acknowledging their dire conditions and their right to self-determination
2. Endorse, in the same statement, the demands set by NSWNMA and any further demands advocated by its members
3. Endorse, in the same statement, any industrial action taken by NSWNMA and its members in fighting for these rights
4. Promote students take and share solidarity photos on social media with an associated hashtag through faculty rep Facebook groups and pages.

Background:

In past years, the Representation Board has set KPIs for the NUS, to better inform the Board as to how the NUS is performing. The assessment of these KPIs, in turn, are used as a basis for considering affiliation matters.

These KPIs have remained relatively standard throughout the years, however have been amended this year so that paid, full-time Office Bearers communicate with their equivalent Member Organisation Office Bearer at least twice every academic period, where previously it was only once. This is because, during the KPI assessment for 2021, it was raised that some NUS Office Bearers had only reached out to the Guild Office Bearers at the start of the semesters for introductions, then never communicated with them again. For a paid, full-time role, this is not enough.

As a Guild which pays high affiliation fees to the NUS, it's a valuable process for us to quantifiably measure how the NUS is tracking, and whether or not we feel adequately represented and supported by them.

“The Curtin Student Guild would like to pay our respect to the Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander members of our community by acknowledging the traditional owners of the land on which the Bentley Campus is located, the Wadjuk people of the Nyungar Nation, and on our Kalgoorlie Campus, the Wongutha people of the North-Eastern Goldfields. Motion: The motion to start the meeting and build on an agenda for the next meeting.

Moved: President

Seconded: Jesse

5. Meeting proceedings:

5.1: The meeting started with introduction of the PSC Committee members by the president and he rolled-out his agenda for the meeting. He nominated 2 two members of the team, Jesse – VP Education and Jessica – VP research. The president requested Siana to explain to the committee about her research pertaining to the major changes to be implemented in the faculty of Education to kick-start in January 2022. Siana explained to the committee that the school is implementing a study special period that will run for 13 consecutive weeks and finishes in February of the next year, citing that the university took away the students' choices of being part of the implementation committee. The challenges as highlighted by Siana is the conflict of this program with full-time employment opportunities and international students will be left with just about 2 months visa validity to get a job which can be hectic and unreliable.

Siana updated the committee that a letter has been sent to Prof. Judith Diham (Director of Learning, School of Education) in this regard but yet to get a response. The president suggested that the committee will schedule for a meeting with Prof. Diham to discuss the concerns of the students concerning this change. Mide said this is seen as a cost saving program for the school, but the students are not happy with the development and suggested that the committee will organise a special session, leveraging on the students' forum to provide the students a forum to speak-out and contact Western Australian Union of Teachers to address this issue. Doris said a strong message should be sent in letters/ emails to the appropriate authorities whose duty is to implement the new study period highlighting the imminent challenges the students are already facing and the implications of this new special study period to the students if it goes on as planned.

The president hinted that himself, Sofia, Jesse, Siana and Doris will schedule for a discussion with the Vice-Chancellor and academic board possibly at the end of the month to talk about the students' predicaments on this issue

Second agenda: "Nursing letter-writing campaign".

The PSC team will roll-out campaign poster on social media channels detailing how to go about this campaign, and this should be done with the approval of the guild. The intention is that the PSC team will create a link for students to access and send in their personal letters explaining their experiences in trying to be assimilated into graduate programs in Australia especially as an international student. These letters will be sent to all the government principal officers (eg Roger Cook) responsible for creating the needed change for elaborate graduate programs in Western Australia. There is already a nursing skill shortage in Australia, the policy in place now does not allow international students to be admitted into graduate programs in Australia.

Doris suggested that nursing governing bodies like AHPRA and NMBA should be notified on these challenges, so that they can add their voices and make the campaign get the needed attention.

Sofia gave the committee a hint on the progress she has made to ensure that international nursing students are offered graduate programs in some hospitals in WA.

Third agenda: "PHD and master's students mentoring program"

Doris mentioned that lack of mentors exposes the students to trauma and confusion, leading to mental health issues. Hameed reiterated on this premise that it takes approximately 4-5 weeks to get an appointment with a psychologist in the school which further increases the anxiety students face. Gail and Jessica highlighted the difficulties they encountered when they resumed in Curtin University as post-graduate and PHD students respectively. They narrated how they found it so difficult, and distressing having to network and navigate the terrain. Hameed and Jessica suggested that we should be willing to volunteer as mentors to the junior ones. It was agreed that a mantra be used to drive home the message to the students e.g. "Everyone should get a mentor "or "If u want a mentor, you could find one". This will be tagged "PSC mentoring program for the incoming students". Jessica suggested that a mentor can mentor a new student who is not basically studying same course as his/her because the mentoring program will not focus on the course content but on ensuring that the new students are stabilized in their new environment and for them to know that there is always someone to reach out for when you do not know what to do. The mentoring session could be online or in-campus, depending on the circumstances and availability of the mentor. The names of the mentors will be posted in the guild website so that students can have access to them. Mide also suggested that the thesis chair could be made mentors as well.

Hameed entreated the PHD students to bring in their wealth of research experience and knowledge into the PSC committee for the benefits of the school and the students.

Hameed said that Business and law faculty councillor position is still vacant and task the committee to look out for a suitable person for that position.

Hameed moved a motion for the meeting to be adjourned till February when school resumes, and this was seconded by Carlos.

The meeting ended at about 1810pm

5. Matters Arising from the Minutes:

Action List

- a. Letter writing campaign

Hameed requested that the CAPA president writes a letter of support in relation to offering grad programs to nursing international students who studied onshore in Australia. This letter will be attached to other letters the PSC committee will send to the state education minister pending the PSC executives scheduled meeting with him at a later date.

b. PSC Committee Mentorship program

The Postgraduate and Ph.D. students' mentorship program was discussed extensively. Jessica suggested that this committee should create peer-support groups and pastoral care while acting as mentors to the in-coming Postgraduate students.

Andrew said there was a mentorship program between 2012-2019 but was discontinued because there was lack of engagement from the students, students stopped contacting their mentors after few weeks of engagement, the inability to streamline the right program for mentorship, many students wanted some academic support, but the mentors are trained to offer support but not academic support. He suggested the PSC could partner with the librarian for academic support and other student's services.

Joan noted that targeted workshops with topics of interest should be incorporated to identify and fill the gap of what should be of immense benefit to the students. This could be published in a journal or communicated through online digital media and any other channel as considered by the committee.

Jesse hinted about using Facebook and the postgraduate portal in the university website, but Miriam answered that some international students do not use Facebook due to limited resources to live online, however, students can request for information about what are studying via the university website.

Hameed suggested that the committee will make use of individual experiences and questionnaires to drive the survey, to identify the missing gaps and how to fill them to ascertain what the students want out of the mentorship program. This will be achieved by having a brainstorming session with the heads of school.

6. Significant Items

- a. Presentation by Errol, CAPA President: He discussed the duties and responsibilities of CAPA as an organization. He stated that CAPA uses advocacy, lobbying and statistical numbers to engage politicians and policy makers. Some of their agenda for 2022 as it pertains to our committee are:
 - i. Job ready campaign for international graduates.
 - ii. Curtailing exploitation of international students.
 - iii. Need for quality in our teaching and research.

b. PSC Executive verbal report- 2022 PSC projects / events and Achieving KPIs

i. President:

Tasked members of the committee on their individual projects for the year 2022 and how to achieve the KPIs outlined for these projects. Hameed is to work with the Guild executive in the school car parking campaign.

ACTION: Hameed to follow-up with this Committee to ensure members work on their assigned projects for the year by matching action with KPIs. Also, to enforce the deadline set for these to happen.

ii. Vice President – Education:

To harness the power of social media to connect communities, optimize academic queries and direct them to the right channel. Provide easier interactive forums in social media for postgraduate students.

ACTION: Hameed and Jesse are happy to create a postgraduate social media page (Facebook, Instagram) where students can ask questions and get a speedy response to their queries

iii. Vice-President—Research:

To organise monthly PSC events using peer-support groups, with the support of the committee members. Work-out a brainstorming session on how best to support postgraduate students.

ACTION: Organise morning tea/coffee for new postgraduate students for interactions to identify the most pressing areas where support are needed.

iv. Secretary:

Onboarding paperwork for all committee members, harmonize meeting calendars for the year 2022. Ensure all committee members get information promptly through email as regards all PSC events and functions.

ACTION: Collaborate with Hameed to coordinate the PSC activities for year 2022.

v. Humanities representative

To continue working on the changes in the Master of Teaching Students. There is a growing concern that studying humanities is now more expensive than other courses in the university due to the recent changes made by the school authority. Disseminate the information about the changes to the students and continue to seek for ways to cushion the psychological impact this will pose on students' mental health.

ACTION: To work with different groups and clubs with the faculty to proffer the best solution.

vi. PSC Councillors

Gail advocated on how to help ameliorate the hardship that the overseas returning students will face on arrival in Australia.

Doris appealed to the student assist and the head of student services to help reduce the 6-week waiting time for students to access counselling services.

Hameed said the academic board have agreed to recruit more counsellors, as staff are beginning to get burnt-out. However, the average waiting time now is 3-weeks. He asked the student engagement manager and student assist officers if the school can provide academic and financial support to these returning students, other than the $5,000 scholarship.

ACTION: Gail to work with different student representatives to address this.

Mitra complained about the school un-updated website, siting that there are some outdated discounts and the ones currently on do not reflect when you want to make payments.

ACTION: Mitra to follow-up with IT team to look at it.

Alphy asked if the school will pay for hotel quarantine for students returning from overseas to Australia.

Manager student engagement advised that the committee should inform the returning student of the COVID-19 scholarship fund which could be up to $4,000 per student. This is to help cushion their financial burden.

Carlos to be more involved with the PSC outreaches, especially in the university lodge and the new hostel building. He is to fully participate in the mentorship and sundowner programs.

Hana to involve student clubs in the faculty regarding PSC activities. Be part of the digital engagement. Opportunities for students after graduation and industry networking. To create a program on how mothers with young children can navigate their way towards academic success. Hameed answered that the careers team organises program for graduating students on how to transition to the labour market. Also, the women department helps with free baby products. Student assist officer explained that mothers with young children with genuine financial hardship can access a certain one-off grant for child-care needs.

ACTION: Collaborate with the student's club manager in the guild for industry networking.

Motion: That the Postgraduate students' Committee notes the verbal reports given by the members present.

Moved: Doris (Secretary)

Seconded: Jesse Hogan (VP-Education)

RESOLVED PSC#02/22

7. Other Items

MEETING WITH THE STATE MINISTER FOR EDUCATION
PSC PARTY DAY

8. General Business

- Doris appealed with the president to allow the committee members some time to get their KPIs organised. This will ensure that they are not over-burdened bearing in mind that almost all of us have jobs outside the PSC and some have families and young children.
- Jessica asked the members to articulate their KPIs to reflect the 5 components of an objective which is "SMART". Jessica will also outline the challenges faced by Ph.D. science and engineering students with their thesis.

Next Meeting

The next meeting of the Postgraduate student Committee to be communicated.

Meeting closed 5.25pm
